

Care to Be the Best

CNA Certification in Perinatal Nursing

"Perinatal nurses are committed to evidence-informed practice and lifelong learning. Certification provides the knowledge to create better outcomes for women, newborns and families. Hospitals employers support their nurses to become certified and contribute to establishing high standards of care. Certification provides benefits to nurses, families and employers. CAPWHN is very proud of all our perinatal-certified nurses. Join the group today!"

Sharon Dore, RN, PhD, PNC

President, Canadian Association of Perinatal and Women's Health Nurses

Did you know over 710 perinatal RNs across Canada now have their national PNC(C) certification designation?

Alberta	59	British Columbia.....	67
Manitoba	55	New Brunswick.....	32
Newfoundland & Labrador	20	Nova Scotia.....	48
Northwest Territories.....	20	Ontario	337
Prince Edward Island	16	Quebec.....	35
Saskatchewan.....	16	Yukon/Nunavut	5

What distinguishes CNA-certified nurses

- Advanced clinical expertise with a commitment to lifelong learning
- Recognized specialty knowledge, authenticated by exacting national standards
- Dedication to evidence-based care and patient safety

What employers of certified nurses are saying

- Certification confirms an RN's enhanced competency and specialized knowledge
- Certification helps to recruit and retain the best nurses
- Having certified RNs on staff not only fosters safe, high-quality care, it also raises the entire education culture

For more information, visit getcertified.cna-aiic.ca.

A product of the Canadian Nurses Association

NEW DATES FOR EXAMS

Write the 2016 computer-based exam any time between September 19 and October 7.

Submit your online application from April 11 to August 8.

Note: Once CNA certified, your PNC(C) credential is valid for a five-year term.